

TRUTH

TRUTHS.

The last indorsement with the people that President Roosevelt could have is the combination of trusts with that pious old Scoundrel John D. Rockefeller at its head that has been formed to discredit the president.

And now we are told that the coal companies or at least some of them that are being prosecuted by the government for stealing coal land are ready to return the land if the government will cease prosecuting them. We doubt this very much. The land grabbers won't yield quite so easily. They will have to be cornered a little more closely before they throw up their hands.

The commission in lunacy has decided that Harry K. Thaw is sane. He may be sane, but he never did have much sense.

The new State land board has chosen W. J. Lynch chairman and the selection is a good one. T. C. Callister was elected secretary in lieu of John De Gray Dixon who resigned to take a more lucrative position in a bank. Mr. Callister is well acquainted with the routine business of the board and he is considered very capable to fill the position of secretary. Mont Fisher, formerly county auditor takes a position as clerk in the office. Mont is an expert accountant and thoroughly well qualified for the place.

Before Truth goes to press the Juvenile court commission may have appointed a judge for the court. When they do get round to it we hope they will consider the claims of Harry Harper. He is exceptionally well qualified for the office. He is a young man, a lawyer, tactful, bears excellent character, always reliable and conscientious.

The democrats of Utah are planning to celebrate Jefferson's birthday with a banquet at the Commercial club, and a committee on arrangements has been appointed to provide for a feast to be held Saturday evening, April 13th. The dinner is to be at $1 a plate, and will be in charge of the following: Mrs. H. J. Hayward, Mrs. E. J. D. Roundy, Mrs. S. A. Kenner, Fisher Harris, J. R. Letcher, L. R. Martineau and M. F. Cunningham.

THAT WHICH MAKES US FREE.

"The indolent acceptance of things as they are by the intelligent classes in this country has made us the scorn of the world. Democracy has come to mean with us the liberty to rob and throttle each other." So said Ida M. Tarbell in a lecture before the Woman's Municipal League of New York.

Miss Tarbell's lecture was upon "Intellectual Integrity." She further said:

"The only thing which makes one free," is found in one's self; it cannot be found in another man's books. Most men learn more from books than from what they think themselves. You can send a man through college, give him all the advantages of an education, but what may it amount to? You cannot make any man an athlete by putting him through the paces.

"It is not only by our lazily letting things go, but self-interest, which works against our intellectual integrity. Should a man sacrifice that for worldly chance? There is a man in the senate now who was asked to assist in cleaning up a notoriously bad city, but he refused. He said:

"I know the rascals rob me personally of large sums each year, but I believe it is to my advantage to let it go and keep on in my business and make up for the loss in that way. Cleaning up a city is work that takes a long time, and is expensive. It will
